Despondency Due to Indigestion

It is not at all surprising that persons who have indigestion become discouraged and despondent. Here are a few words of hope and cheer for them by Mrs. Blanche Bowers, Indiana, Pa. "For years my digestion was so poor that I could only eat the lightest foods. I tried everything that I heard of to get relief, but not until about a year ago when I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and got a bottle of them, did I find the right treatment. I soon began to improve, and since taking a few bottles of them my digestion is fine. For sale by all dealers—Adv.

Will Move to Clinton

W. T. Pollock has traded his 120-acre farm 4 miles north of Mansfield to Arthur Stafford and Otto Brentlinger for a 40-acre farm near Clinton and Clinton city property. He will have a sale Nov. 17, for which bills were printed at this office, and he and his family will locate at Clinton. While regretting to lose them we wish them prosperity in their new home.

Will Make the Race

Prof. Arthur Arnold came in Saturday from Phillipsburg, near where he is teaching, to spend the week with home folks. About 100 of the school children met him at the train—a tribute he greatly appreciated. He expects to return in January and make an active campaign for county superintendent of schools—a position he is amply qualified to fill.

Lower Wolf Creek

Old Jack Frost has come at last and painted everything white for a few mornings.

Hallowe'en has come and gone with very little damage done on the creek, but the boys had a great deal of fun, I suppose.

Lon Campbell's dined with Roscoe Sikes and wife Saturday.

O. P. Wilcox spent Friday night and Saturday at the home of his daughter on the creek.

Mrs. Robert Claxton met with quite a painful accident Friday afternoon. Her father and husband were cutting wood a quarter of a mile from the house and she took them a drink. While there she picked up the axe, and thought she would split some of the blocks they had sawed off, when the axe slipped and shaved the flesh and nails off of a couple of toes on her right foot. She is getting along as well as could be expected.

Misses Emma and Louise Oetting spent Wednesday night and Thursday at the Harve Young home.

Roscoe Sikes and wife and Jeff Coday and wife were guests of Lon Campbell and wife Sunday.

Mrs. Harve Coday and Oscar Dugger spent Saturday with Mrs. Sikes.

Mrs. Byron Shanes spent a few days last week with her mother. They expect to leave for Kansas soon.

Mrs. Harrison Coday called on Mrs. Tom Holland Saturday afternoon.

Harve Young, wife and mother dined with Tom Young and wife Friday.

Best Cough Medicine for Children

"Three years ago when I was living in Pittsburgh one of my children had a hard cold and coughed dreadfully. Upon the advice of a druggist I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it benefited him at once. I find it the best cough medicine for children because it is pleasant to take. They do not object to taking it," writes Mrs. Lafayette Tuck, Homer City, Pa. This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. Sold by all dealers.—Adv.

A REMARKABLE WAR STORY

Frederick Palmer Now Witnessing Fulfillment of Prophecy Described in "The Last Shot."

Frederick Palmer, the author of the remarkable story, "The Last Shot," is a typical cosmopolitan. He not only knows war and the men who make war, but he knows the world and has been practically all over it.

Mr. Palmer is a native of Pennsylvania, born at Pleasantville in that state in 1873. He was residing in England at the time the Greco-Turkish war of 1896 began and went to the front as a correspondent. At the close of this war he went to the Klondike as a correspondent. He was in the Orient in 1898 when the war between the United States and Spain began, and was with Admiral Dewey at the battle of Manila, reporting it for the London Times and a number of American newspapers. He remained with the American army in the Philippines throughout the campaign against Aguinaldo. When the international expedition for the rescue of the foreign residents in Peking was organized at the time of the Boxer uprising in China he joined it in the capacity of a correspondent for his papers.

From 1900 to 1903 Mr. Palmer saw service in the Central and South American and the Macedonian insurrections. With the breaking out of war between Japan and Russia he joined the first Japanese army in the field as the representative of the London Times and Collier's Weekly, and was almost the only correspondent who saw active service with the Japanese army. He was in Constantinople during the Turkish revolution of 1909, and was with the Bulgarian army throughout the Balkan war of 1912-13.

In addition to this active career as a war correspondent, Mr. Palmer has circled the globe with Admiral Dewey, and again with the American battleship fleet in 1907-8. He is familiar with every capital of Europe, and has a personal acquaintance with a very large number of prominent European government officials and military and naval commanders.

Mr. Palmer is now at the front reporting the present war for the papers he represents, and is witnessing the fulfillment of the prophecy contained in his notable story, "The Last Shot." We have arranged to print Mr. Palmer's remarkable story, "The Last Shot," serially in these columns.

Prof. W. H. Lynch, visitor of the Springfield Normal, was here last week. He visited the school at Norwood, which he reported in a flourishing condition. He also attended the teachers meeting at Hartville and reports a splendid meeting and one resulting in much good to the teachers in attendance.
